

A horizontal bar chart showing the distribution of 100 responses across 20 categories. The top row consists of 20 colored squares, and the bottom row consists of 20 orange squares of varying heights representing the frequency of each response.

